The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen et al (US 4,872,995) and Fiarman et al (US 5,294,686).

Rejection is maintained for reason of record and following response.

Chain transfer agents taught in Chen et al are examples since Chen et al uses expression, "such as". Both Chen et al and Fiarman et al are directed to polymers having carboxylic acid units and low molecular weight and to the same application, scale preventing polymer. Thus, the use of the art well known chain transfer agent, hypophosphorous acid or its salts thereof taught by Fiarman et al in Chen et al is a prima facie obviousness, and applicant failed to show any unexpected result.

Claims 1, 3 and 6-11 are allowed.

Claims 2, 4 and 5 are objected since it recites a range within a range, but would be allowable if rewritten in dependent form.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1714

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
